- SOLUBLE HUMUS SOURCE

LIQUID HUMUS is a humic acid concentrate manufactured by a unique patented process which extracts humic acid from undecomposed peat naturally without using of caustic chemical process.

LIQUID HUMUS improves microbial growth in soils to produced "healthy living soil". This will allow the crops to withstand stress conditions such as moisture and nutrient stress, transplant shock, and improve seed germination and seedling vigor.

The quantity of organic carbon (HUMUS) in your soil can make a big difference in the growth of your crop. Experiments have shown that in the complete absence of humus or organic carbon it is not at all possible to grow any crop.

Organic carbon (HUMUS) is produced naturally in the soil from the breakdown of organic matter (usually in the form of crop residue) by bacteria and fungi or micro organisms in the soil. The crop residues are converted into carbon dioxide, carbonic acids and numerous mild acids. These acids, stored in the Humus complex, are necessary to convert, chelate, and released soil minerals.
